6. When I get back to my school I will ...

- When I go to in-services I want to get some ideas and sometimes I don't. Thank you for so many good ideas. I can hardly wait to try them.
- Share the materials with my administrative staff and hopefully we can bring it to the staff. Very good info.
- Be able to apply PRACTICAL ideas from someone who has – “been there...done that.”
- Begin implementing resources, ideas and groups
- Create a vision statement with my class (2)
- Write down my vision and incorporate the information into my day to day experiences with my students, their families as well as my own family
- Model some ideas on working with students/parents
- Discuss with my peers
- Be more aware!
- Meet with my instructional assistant over lunch (or a few lunches) to work with them on the concept/ideas that I would like to implement over the year
- Use what I have learnt, and work with others towards turning judgment into curiosity (2)
- Implementing ways to bring out best in child and parent
- Talk with my principal about sharing this information with staff. Take this back to my learning resource team. Figure out how to incorporate some of this material into our parent and tot coffee and parent nights.

7. I need...

- To read through everything and become aware of myself and who I am before I can really be helpful in the lives of others.
- Time to collect my thoughts and ideas and get them into practice.
- To finish reading the material and to share it with others!
- To read the book and refresh myself on the ideas so that I can use them.
- More comments on specific information on PreK (i.e.: what do you do when a child in PreK...) Sharing of solutions.
- To build more meaningful/connecting relationships with my parents, students and my own family!
- To be able to remember how to relax and act rather than react to the stressful situation I may be presented in. (center myself).
- To read through the book and broaden my knowledge and awareness.
- To share this amazing/awesome information with teachers.

8. Comments...

- I think this was a great start to the new year, I only missed not starting the year with my Kindergarten class. If there's one thing I need to do more is to relax. Thank you for helping me towards that!
- Wonderful presenter, engaging and honest. I loved how involved everyone was. Thank you!
- Thanks for this! It was great to have PD directed at Pre-K!
- This was the BEST training session I ever attended (and I have attended lots!)
- I was able to ask questions and receive feedback from the whole group in a non-threatening environment.
- Thanks for the three days – It is great to be around imperfect human beings!
- Thank you this was a great experience. Thank you for helping.
- I think that this three day session gave me so many insights into my teaching and how I relate to others. The second day of the course I even sat down and watched some of the DVD in the evening with my boyfriend and we talked about how we communicate and relate to others. It made me excited to go out into the classroom and work on continuing to strengthen my relationships with the students and the parents.
- Great workshop! It will certainly help me build more meaningful relationships with others.
- Maggie did a great job!
- I dug down deep and I dug these three days with you Maggie. You have a gift. Wow! Thank you!
- Very good session! I feel very enlightened and ready to take on life!
- The three days were exactly what I needed as a parent and employee. I have learned so much. The entire presentation was captivating, dynamic and engaging. Thank you!
